

In the
Indiana Supreme Court

In re: Conditional Admission) Indiana Supreme Court of Applicant No. 30810,) Cause No. 94S00-0612-BL-539 Jennifer Hoffman)

ORDER REVOKING CONDITIONAL LICENSE TO PRACTICE LAW

Jennifer Hoffman ("Respondent") was conditionally admitted to the Indiana bar on May 12, 2006, pursuant to certain terms and conditions established by the Board of Law Examiners ("the Board") set out in Consent Agreement signed by the Respondent. See Admission and Discipline Rule 12 § 6(c). The Consent Agreement provided that any violation of the conditions of admission may result in further proceedings pursuant to Admission and Discipline Rule 12 § 10 to determine whether the Board should recommend revocation of her conditional admission.

Because of Respondent's failure to abide by the terms of her conditional admission, the Board scheduled Respondent to appear before the full Board on November 17, 2006, to show cause why her conditional admission should not be revoked. At the hearing, Respondent admitted being out of compliance with the Consent Agreement. After considering the Respondent's admission and other evidence, the Board determined Respondent was out of compliance and, per Admission and Discipline Rule 12 § 10, filed with this Court a "Notice of Recommendation of Revocation of Conditional Admission" ("Notice") asking us to revoke Respondent's admission and recommended that Respondent not be permitted to submit a new application for two years. The Board also prepared certified findings in accordance with Admission and Discipline Rule 12 §§ 8 and 10, and attached those findings to the Notice. Respondent was served with the Notice and its attachments.

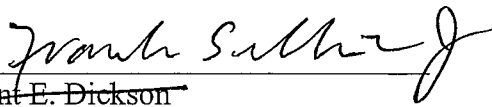

After reviewing the Notice, the Court issued an order on January 9, 2007, allowing Respondent thirty days within which to file any response. Respondent failed to file any response.

The Notice and attached certified findings establish that Respondent failed to abide by the terms of her conditional admission. Based on the Notice and certified findings, as well as Respondent's failure to respond thereto, the Court finds that the license of Jennifer Hoffman to practice law in Indiana should be, and hereby is, REVOKED, effective immediately. Further, Respondent SHALL NOT SUBMIT a new application for admission to the Bar of Indiana for a period of two years from the date of this order.

The Clerk is directed to provide notice of this order in accordance with Admission and Discipline Rule 23 § 3(d) and to provide the Clerk of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, and the clerks of the U.S. District Courts and U.S. Bankruptcy Courts of this state with Respondent's personal and business addresses.

In addition, the Clerk is further directed to send a copy of this order to Respondent by certified mail, return receipt requested, to both her personal and business addresses. Copies of the order are also to be sent to Mary Godsey, Executive Director of the State Board of Law Examiners; to the Supreme Court Administrator; to Donald Lundberg, Executive Secretary of the Supreme Court Disciplinary Commission; to LexisNexis; and to West Group for publication in the bound volumes of this Court's decisions.

Done at Indianapolis, Indiana, this 23^d day of March, 2007.

Brent E. Dickson
Acting Chief Justice of Indiana

All Justices concur.